ABOUT ME

Despite not having experience in fixed jobs, I know that I can adapt very well because I have several soft skills that will make dealing with me wonderful, as well as obviously having enough skills in programming logic to solve any problem that comes my way. I am 18 years old, I have finished high school, I have a fairly good level of English, I enjoy taking courses to learn new technologies and keep up to date with what is new in the field of web-oriented programming.
